

AMERICAN COLONY IN THE HOLY LAND. The Boston Traveller states that letters have been received in that city from the American colony at Jaffa. Thus far the colonists have not been molested by the natives; but they complain of many privations arising from a changeable climate, bad water, scarcity of provisions, and want of cash.

When their village is erected and they are beginning to prosper—that is, if it is possible to prosper in such a God-forsaken land, where the real sorrow will begin. At present, while they are poor, and disorganized, the thieves and murderers, who infest the whole region, may not think it worth their while to trouble them; but let them become more robbing, and they will be robbed without mercy.

The colony at present is under the protection of the American Consul, who has obtained a sufficient force from the Turkish Government to keep the thieves at bay. This protection cannot always be afforded, and when it is withdrawn, the colonists will be compelled to look out for themselves.

Dr. Eliza G. Smith, of Newburyport, in a letter dated Jaffa, October 23, writes more hopefully. He says:— I have with me Professor Cross, of Germany, one of the most learned and spiritual of men, whose wife is a Russian lady, who has been a resident of this country, principally in Jerusalem, for twenty-seven years. He has taught Hebrew in the United States, but has lived here in the years. Most of the Americans are camped in wooden huts on the sea-shore. Never were seen a more interesting and motley collection of tents. They were extemporaneously built of odd remnants of parti-colored cloths; every hue and fabric were bed-clothes of conspicuously prominent colors.

Nearly all are contented and happy. Some of tender health have been made strong. One of our number, a little child, sick when it entered ship, died a few days since. One was born since landing, which keeps our number complete. It is singular that, as in the Mayflower, one death balanced one birth, and thus preserved the primitive number of set-aside exiles.

In a postscript the Doctor mentions the death of two children and a man named Burns, a middle-aged man from Maine.

Senator Wright's Will. The will of the late Senator William Wright, of New Jersey, was admitted to probate last week in the Surrogate's office of Newark. The entire valuation of the estate was sworn to at one million dollars, of which $500,000 are in real estate and $500,000 in personal property. All of this is devised to the family except $1000, which is given to the executor.

The sum of fifteen thousand dollars is given to his grand-son, and ten thousand dollars to his grand-daughter, children of Mrs. Gavers, his daughter in Russia, and a like sum respectively to the son and daughter of his only son, E. H. Wright. The rest of the property is to be equally divided between the widow, son, and daughter—the latter's portion being secured to her for her sole use. Provision is made in case of the death of any one of the legatees, for dividing their share among the survivors of the legal representatives. The will is dated February 17, 1866. United States revenue stamps to the value of five hundred dollars were attached to the will when it was admitted to probate.

The New Bishop Elect of Maine. Rev. Henry A. Neely, recently elected to the Bishopric in the diocese of Maine, made vacant by the death of the lamented Bishop Burgess, was born in 1830, at Fayetteville, Oronoco county, New York, and his father shortly after removed to Chicago, where he remained for fifteen or twenty years, a well-known commission merchant, the family residing most of the time at Belvidere. He graduated at Geneva, now Hobart College, in 1849, where, shortly after two years ending, he studied theology under Bishop De Lancy. He was first rector at Calvary Church, Utica, and then of Christ Church, Rochester, building up both parishes, and afterwards, at the invitation of his Bishop, Chaplain of West College, where he was admired for his scholastic ability and zealous discharge of the responsibilities of his position. He is now assistant minister at Trinity Chapel, in New York.

A New Powder—A new explosive mixture called "Poudre Fontaine," used in the torpedoes which were tried against the hull of the Vauban, has been employed in blowing up the old quays of one of the basins at Toulon now in process of extension. A kind charged with a few grammes of the powder exploded with such effect that a charge of one hundred kilograms of the ordinary gunpowder would have caused less destruction. The charge was purposely a small one, and the engineers congratulated themselves on having commenced so cautiously. A singular result of the explosion was the killing a quantity of fish. The workmen picked up seventy or eighty pounds weight, which floated on the surface of the water. The same phenomenon had been remarked from the action of the torpedoes.

Michael Angelo's "David"—A bronze casting has been made of Michael Angelo's colossal marble statue of David in front of the Palazzo Vecchio, in Florence; and it is proposed to substitute the reproduction for the original, which has stood for more than three centuries and a half exposed to all changes of weather, and which will then be removed to the museum of the "Pretorio." This celebrated statue (of which there is a plaster cast in the South Kensington Museum, presented by the late Grand Duke of Tuscany) is one of the few left complete by Michael Angelo, and a noble work, although he labored under the disadvantage of having to use a block of marble which had already been wrought upon by an inferior artist, and was considered to have been spoiled.

A Curious Case.—A curious pig case was lately tried at Norwich, England. A woman, being about to purchase a full-grown pig for the moderate sum of sixteen shillings, asked the vendor whether the animal was "all right." "It's a precious sight righter than you," was the reply—an assurance which the purchaser, considering her own soundness unimpeachable, appears to have taken in perfectly satisfactory. The pig, however, in a few days, died, and the question then arose, and was tried before the local magistrate, whether a "warranty" had been given with it. The woman laid great stress on the fact that the pig had been declared "righter" even than she was; but the magistrates were of opinion that that didn't amount to much, and dismissed the case.

A Unique Carriage.—A colored man drove through the streets of Richmond, last Saturday, in an open one-horse carriage, made wholly of broom straw, with the exception of wheels and running-gears, which attracted almost as much attention as the arrival of a circus or menagerie. The wheels were sawed out of solid timber and measured eighteen inches in diameter, and revolved glibly on their well-lubricated axles. The shafts and harness consisted of light material, carefully adjusted; the body being without top or cover, three feet in length and perhaps two feet in width, consisting entirely of straw interwoven with osiers in a very compact and artistic manner, with a seat of the same material in the hinder part, and just large enough to admit a man.
